VINCENT J. O'BRIEN, CPA, provides accounting, tax and consulting services to businesses and individuals, and serves as a technical consultant to CPA firms. He is the President of Vincent J. O'Brien, CPA, P.C., located on Long Island.

Mr. O'Brien is also a renowned lecturer and textbook author. He is the owner and principal lecturer of M+O=CPE, Inc. (www.mocpe.com), a company that provides its annual year-end tax update each December and January for CPAs and other tax professionals. This annual update has become the definitive way to prepare for tax season for practitioners. These practitioners rely on Mr. O'Brien's full-day lecture and on each year's custom-written textbook to manage the increasingly complex rules of taxation and compliance. As a practicing CPA, Mr. O'Brien provides practical and useful insights into how to apply tax rules in the real world.

Mr. O'Brien is also a regular contributor to CCH Federal Tax Weekly, and other CCH books and publications. (These publications address new tax laws and planning issues and are used by tens of thousands of professionals nationwide.) He has taught advanced accounting at Hofstra University, and has taught for CPA review courses that prepare candidates to take the Uniform CPA Examination.

Mr. O'Brien graduated as Valedictorian of Hofstra University, and was awarded the prestigious Elijah Watt Sells Award for scoring one of the highest grades in the nation on the CPA Exam. He was also a Senior Accountant at KPMG, one of the largest accounting firms in the world.
